The big score hoodoo that has hung around Walker's field ever since the league season opened was again in evidence yesterday. One of the largest Saturday crowds of the season turned out to see what the Occidentals would do with the Salt Lake team, and a close game was expected. Instead, the colored boys was expected. Instead, the colored boys had a walk-away with the league leaders. Score. 14 to 7. The game was marked by errors which proved very costly and resulted in sending enough runs over the plate to take care of half a dozen games. For instance, in the first inning, with two out, Kaefer stepped off the bag while receiving what should have been the third put out. He had plenty of time to get back, but instead started for the bench, thinking the side retired. This error cost just three runs.

But the one great weakness was the throwing to first base. Four balls in all were sent into the right field bleachers and each throw let in runs. The Occidentals were in on this game, especially Hawkins, who is considered one of the best fielders on the team. Out of seven chances he missed five of them, and four of these were poor throws to first. Mr. Gans did some wonderful work in stopping other bad throws to first, while Kaefer was not so lucky for Salt Lake.

Langford and Manley started the work in the box and would have pitched great 'All if given the proper support. Lang-Langford and Manley started the work in the box and would have pitched great 'all if given the proper support. Langford was at his best, but had to pitch his head off to make up for the errors behind him. Manley did good work and seemed to have all kinds of curves, but his efforts were discouraging on account of the support. In the fifth inning, Hummell took his place, but this change did not seem to help matters, and, like Manley, he received poor support. Lumley hurt his hand in the third and tried to continue playing, but in the fifth gave way to James, who did good work for the rest of the came.

Salt Lake's outfield also had a day off.

Wells, James and McKean each dropped an easy fly during the game. It was surely a day of costly errors, but many fast plays were pulled off, especially on the Occidental infield. The score:

Gimlin's Team. (Special to The Herald.)

Murray, July 11 .- Dad Gimlin and his nine pets from Ogden were defeated in a game of ball at Murray yesterday by the Murray Tigers, to the tune of 7 to 5. Pearson and the new back, Bosquit, did the honors for the Tigers, and did it up brown, while Murphy and old warhorse Hausen officiated for the Lobsters. It was a beautiful game of ball, each team endeavoring to show the other up. Pearson had a little the better of the pitching argument. A new umpire was in evidence at yesterday's game. He went under the name of Carl Raht and did satisfactory work with the indicator.

The game was started by Ogden making two runs in the first inning. In the second half the Tigers got busy with the wand and piled up four runs. Ogden brought in two more runs in the next inning, while the Tigers also made two. For the rest of the game the Lobsters did not score until the last half of the seventh, this being their last run, which was made by Murphy. nine pets from Ogden were defeated in a
